

North Syracuse Central School
District 2020-2021
Instructional Models

Internet and Device Access Among Students

- All students will be provided 1:1 Chromebooks for the 2020-2021 school year.
- Parents who do not have access to the internet are encouraged to contact the building principal. NSCSD will work with parents to assure connectivity throughout the 2020-2021 school year.

Instructional Certainties

- All students will have meaningful interaction with teachers on a daily basis
- All students will have equal access to online and digital educational tools
- All students will receive a combination of synchronous and asynchronous learning

Elementary (K-4) Instruction

- Students in grades K-4 (elementary level) will report to their home school using a hybrid (AA/BB) schedule with Wednesday designated as a remote learning day for all students. Typical student schedules will be created alphabetically by last name with students by the last name beginning with A-K attending in-person on Monday and Tuesday and students by the last name beginning with L-Z attending in person on Thursday and Friday.
- Modifications will be made for families with special circumstances. Parents must contact the child's building principal to make arrangements.
- In-person attendance in any classroom will be limited to ensure social distancing guidelines are followed.

Note: Hybrid schedules will be a combination of synchronous and asynchronous instruction. The schedule above represents the content that will be taught, not necessarily the schedule of instruction. Synchronous instruction will be scheduled in “age appropriate” amounts of time.

Middle-level (5-7) Instruction

- Students in grades 5-7 (middle level) will report to their home school using a hybrid schedule with Wednesday designated as a remote learning day for most students. Student schedules will be created alphabetically by last name with students by the last name beginning with A-K attending in-person on Monday and Tuesday and students by the last name beginning with L-Z attending in person on Thursday and Friday.
- Modifications may be made for families with special circumstances as space and available staffing allow. Parents must contact the child's building principal to make arrangements.
- In-person attendance in any classroom will be limited to ensure social distancing guidelines are followed.
